DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 19 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 4. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1-8 and 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The applicant merely states in page 2, lines 15-18 of the specification that "[i]t may be advantageous that the replacement of a cartridge automatically leads to the replacement the filter with a new filter." The applicant further teaches that, optionally, disassembly of the insertion tube 6 for the replacement of the cartridge allows easy replacement of the filter (see page 7, lines 3-8 of the specification of the instant application). However, the applicant's written description fails to clearly teach how "the replacement of the cartridge with a new cartridge automatically leads to the replacement of the filter with a new filter" as recited in independent claim 1 as amended.

Furthermore, as shown in Fig. 1 of the instant application, the cartridge 8 is housed within a mounting tube 6 adapted to be attached to the proximal end of body 1, whereas the filter system 14 is disposed within a micromanipulator 2 attached to the distal end of said body (see Figs. 1 and 3, and claim 11). It is not clear from the figures or the written description how replacement of the cartridge leads to automatic replacement of the filter as recited in the claims.

Appropriate correction or explanation is required.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-8 and 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Independent claim 1 as amended recites that replacement of the cartridge leads to automatic replacement of the filter with a new filter. However, the applicant's disclosure fails to clearly teach as to how the replacement of the cartridge leads to automatic replacement of the filter. Hence, this limitation renders the claims indefinite.

Claim 19 recites the limitation "the removable filter" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Note: independent claim 1 recites a "replaceable filter." Although the terms 'replaceable filter' and 'removable filter' are similar, consistent wording in the claims languages is suggested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Crandell et al. US Patent No. 3,951,152 in view of Loeb US Patent No. 6,953,458.

Crandell et al. disclose a cryogenic surgical probe and method of use, the probe comprising a probe tip having inner/pore diameter of about 0.004 inches, a cryogenic gas supply canister 18, and replaceable filter 74 disposed with the probe as claimed. Crandell et al. do not teach the use of a gas flow valve or an actuator means adapted to permit movement of the valve to control gas flow as claimed. However, the use of valve and associated mechanical or electrical control means for control flow of gas/fluid is known in the art. Loeb discloses an alternative fluid delivery apparatus comprising a fluid flow valve and an associated mechanical control mechanism for controlling fluid flow. Hence, at the time of the applicant's invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Crandell et al in view of Loeb an use a fluid flow control means such as a valve and an actuator in order to control flow of the cryogenic fluid circulating/passing through the probe.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
